Ben Brown

After appearing in just one game as a freshman in 2004, Ben Brown has grown into a tremendous role player for the Lions. A back-up catcher, first baseman and designated hitter throughout his career, he has done everything asked of him by the Lions' coaching staff and has now started 6 of 32 games played with a .250 average at the plate. He has been a tremendous asset for the Lions with his skills and talents in the bull pen and will be missed for his contributions both on and off the field.

A Dean's List student at TCNJ, he is also a four-time TCNJ Scholar-Athlete honoree having excelled in the classroom as well. A health and exercise science major, he is a former team captain of both the basketball and baseball teams at Toms River North High. An honor roll student as well, he earned a selection to the National Honor Society and is a former 16-time honor roll student. At TCNJ, he also works with the Athletic Training staff.

Blake Bullis

Blake Bullis opened his collegiate career with an impressive performance in Florida driving in 11 runs and batting .393 for the trip and by year's end batted .305. He started half of the games that year at third base and drove in 17 runs. His .512 slugging percentage was second highest among the Lions rookies in 2004. During his inaugural season, he was the NJAC's Rookie of the Week on March 14, after batting .394 for the week with five doubles, one triple and one homerun with 11 RBI's. He had four multiple-hit games during that week as well.

A year later, Bullis earned a spot on the 2005 ABCA Division III All-America Second Team for his outstanding play at first base. His list of accomplishments as a sophomore also include a selection to the 2005 NJCBA Division II/III All-State First Team, the NJAC All-Star First Team, the ECAC Division III Metro First Team and a spot on the Mid-Atlantic Regional NCAA Division III All-America Team First Team at first base. A one-time NJAC and NJCBA Player of the Week honoree in 2005, Bullis batted .398 on the year, while leading the Lions and the NJAC with his 20 doubles. He ranked third in the league with his 124 total bases, while finishing third with a .649 slugging percentage.

His batting average (.398) ranks 16th in school history for a single-season, while his 191 at-bats ranks seventh, and his 76 hits ranks third. His 20 doubles in 2005 just missed TCNJ's single-season mark (21) and elevated his career doubles to 28, which was 15th best as well.

As if those accomplishments were not enough, Bullis picked up All-America First Team honors in 2006 after another tremendous season. Among the honors he reaped on the season were a selection to the ECAC All-Star First Team, the NJAC All-Star First Team, the NJCBA All-State First Team, the ABCA Atlantic Region Co-Player of the Year and the ABCA Atlantic Regional All-America First Team. He also shared the honor as the 2006 ABCA Mid-Atlantic Regional Player of the Year with his fellow Lion, Gerard Haran. Bullis led the Lions with 72 RBI's, while connecting on 14 homeruns as well. He added 16 doubles, three triples and a team-leading 75 hits. He has a .395 average and 190 at-bats with a .732 slugging percentage and a .434 on-base percentage. He was ranked 10th in homeruns per game (0.30) nationally in 2006 as well as third with RBI's per game (1.57), and 22nd in slugging percentage. Twice he was chosen the NJAC's and ECAC's Player of the Week in 2006 and finished the year as the Rawlings National Division III Defensive Player of the Year.

Bullis has continued to add to his impressive resume in his final season. Earlier this year, he broke TCNJ's career doubles record, only to watch a fellow Lion move past him a few weeks later. Overall, on the 2007 season, he has a .322 average with a .500 slugging percentage and now has 47 hits with 7 doubles, 5 triples and 3 homeruns. He has connected for 33 RBI's and leads the Lions with his 20 stolen bases and has scored 33 runs as well in 146 at bats. Just this past week, he added three triples in the Lions' win over CSI to break the College's career triple record.

On his career, he is now batting .366 with 156 runs scored, 223 hits, 26 homeruns, 51 doubles, 13 triples and 162 RBI's, while also adding 17 career sacrifice hits after breaking the NCAA's single-season triple record with 13 in 2006. He has started 147 of 153 career games played and has a .621 career slugging percentage with 378 total bases with a .973 fielding percentage with 970 career putouts. He now has 49 career stolen bases in 53 tries and ranks ninth all-time at TCNJ in the category, while his career at bats is 4th best, runs scored is 5th best, 223 career hits is second best and just 12 behind the leader (235), while also ranking second in career doubles, 6th in homers and third in RBI's.

The league MVP at Delran H.S., Bullis is a former first team All-South Jersey honoree as well as a first team all-county performer. Nominated for Boys' State, he is a computer science major at TCNJ.

Andrew Cosgrove

As a rookie with the Lions in 2004, Andrew Cosgrove appeared in five games and managed to bat .400 in limited time at the plate. He worked hard in the off-season and earned a starting role the following year before suffering a hand injury mid-season. Before the injury, he had started 26 of 30 games at second base and was batting .290 with 27 hits and 15 RBI's. He had committed just five errors in 102 total chances and had made the transition to an everyday player quite well.

Cosgrove returned to the lineup in 2006 and started 35 of 42 games and turned in a .328 performance at the plate with a career-best 26 RBI's and five homeruns. He finished the 2006 season with a .515 slugging percentage and a .403 on-base percentage. Defensively, Cosgrove was also extremely effective with a .981 fielding percentage in 156 total chances.

This season finds Cosgrove batting .282 with 30 runs scored off 33 hits, while adding 8 doubles and 2 homeruns. He has 22 RBI's with 24 walks and a .402 slugging percentage and a .410 on-base percentage having started 31 of 33 games at second base this year.

Overall, he has a .304 career batting average in 109 games played with 106 career hits with 66 RBI's and 35 extra-base hits to his credit, while adding 56 career walks and has a .456 career slugging percentage.

A TCNJ Scholar-Athlete, he is a Dean's List student majoring in finance with a minor in marketing. He spent the summer of 2006 working as a financial manager at Northwestern Mutual.

A two-sport athlete at North Hunterdon, he excelled in baseball and wrestling, earning all-state and all-conference honors in baseball. He was also named the Express Times Player of the Year in baseball and went on to win three district championships in wrestling and was a three-time region runner-up. A National Honor Society and Spanish Honor Society student, he graduated with high honors.

Gerard Haran

With each passing season, Gerard Haran has continued to lay claim to new TCNJ feats. During his time with the Lions, he continues to rewrite several single-season and career records, many of which he accomplished by his junior season, became the first Lion baseball player to earn ABCA National Division III Player of the Year honors.

He is coming off a tremendous 2006 campaign that saw the talented catcher earn Player of the Year honors from six different organizations, the NJAC, the NJCBA, the ECAC, the ABCA Atlantic Region, the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association NCAA Division III "Position Player of the Year," and the Rawlings/ABCA National Player of the Year.

He finished the 2006 season with 14 homeruns, elevating his career record to 35, a running school mark. He was named the Player of the Week by the NJAC, the NJCBA and the National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association over the course of the spring and was the only repeat selection for the NCBWA during the year. He finished with a .415 average with 64 runs, 71 hits, 21 doubles, and 64 RBI's. He has also been hit by a pitch 17 times, another Lion record and finished with an .807 slugging percentage for the 2006 season.

Nationally his numbers were among many of the top performances in Division III as he ranked tenth in homeruns per game (0.30), seventh in runs scored per game (1.39), eighth in slugging percentage and 30th in doubles per game (0.46).

As a sophomore, he was selected to the 2005 ABCA All-American First Team after breaking school records for most homeruns (15) and RBI's (74) in a single-season. The 2005 NJCBA Division II/III Player of the Year, Haran batted .386 on the season in 47 games started. He had a .743 slugging percentage with a .488 on-base percentage in 2005 and was named to the ECAC Division III Metro First Team, the 2005 NJAC All-Star Second Team and the Mid-Atlantic Regional NCAA Division III All-America Team First Team as a catcher.

His numbers during the 2005 season rank as well among many of the top single-season efforts as well at TCNJ as his 50 runs scored and 66 hits both rank ninth, while his 16 doubles ranks sixth as well. He finished the season ranked third nationally with his 1.57 RBI's per game average and was 22nd in Division III with his slugging percentage. His 15 homeruns (0.32 per game) ranked 15th nationally as well. Twice during the 2005 season, he was named the NJAC's Player of the Week, while also earning two ECAC Player of the Week selections and an additional pair of selections as the NJCBA Player of the Week.

As a newcomer to the lineup in 2004, Haran adjusted to the collegiate game with great ease and by season's end had wrapped up Rookie of the Year honors from both the NJAC and the NJBCA. He finished the season batting .333 with a .596 slugging percentage. He led the Lions with his six homeruns and added 24 RBI's on his rookie campaign while batting cleanup for the Lions. The Lions' everyday catcher as a rookie, he also threw out 15 runners and held the opposition to .651 stolen base percentage when behind the plate.

He earned NJAC Rookie of the Week honors on March 28 after batting .500 for the previous week. He added the game-winning run in an extra innings game against Wilmington in the 10th inning off the bench.

In his final season, he has earned several weekly player of the week honors thus far and ranks 10th nationally with his 0.29 homeruns per game, while leading the Lions with his 10 total homers ranks 13th as well in Division 3. On the season, he now has .308 average with a team-best 10 doubles, 10 homeruns and 42 RBI's, while sporting a .624 slugging percentage, while also having been hit 10 times by opposing pitchers in 34 starts. He also leads the Lions with his 4 sacrifice flies and has scored 35 runs in 133 at bats. He added his 200th career RBI earlier this week to become just the fourth player in conference history to hit the mark, while becoming the 22nd player in Division 3 history to have 200 or more RBI's.

On his career, Haran now has a .368 career batting average with 211 hits, 174 runs scored, 55 doubles, 204 RBI's, 85 walks and has been hit by a pitch 47 different times, while adding 17 sacrifice flies. He has a .709 career slugging percentage with a .474 on-base percentage and has made only 14 career errors in 1028 career total chances. He has started 152 of 155 career games with the Lions as well.

Among the current career records he now holds is most homeruns (45), most doubles (55), most RBI's (204), most runs scored (174), most times hit by a pitch (47), while standing with in striking distance of TCNJ's career hit mark which is currently 235 as he now has 211.

During the summer of 2006, Haran played for the New Market Rebels in the Valley Baseball League and earned all-league honors as the only Division III player recognized of the league's 16 all-stars. In January of 2007, he was recognized by the New Jersey Sports Writers Association as the Collegiate Baseball Player of the Year and moved the crowd with a memorable acceptance speech.

He is an English major at TCNJ and is a former Honor Roll student.
